SAD ACCIDENT AT FABYAN CROSSING

John Latch Instantly Killed by Train

About four thirty Wednesday morning just after Mr. John Latch, had left the Fabyan station to visit his farm, his automobile was hit by a west bound freight train. Mr. Latch and the car was pushed about one hundred feet ahead of the train when he was thrown out of the car and several freight cars passed over his body, which was badly cut up. The automobile was completely wrecked even the engine being smashed. The late Mr. Latch, had been section foreman at Fabyan for some time, also operating a farm on which his brother was working. Tuesday they had been having trouble with the seed drill and Mr. Latch was on his way to see if he could help them get it working properly. Leaving the station the road follows the railway track to the crossing and the deceased had evidently not noticed the train approaching from the east and had reached the crossing at practically the same time as the train.

Mrs. Latch, had seen the train coming and tried to attract her husband's attention but as he had the side curtains on the car and was leaving the station she was unable to warn him of the approaching danger.

The A. P. P. and corner were advised of the accident and the body was removed to Wainwright where it was prepared for burial. Beside the wife the deceased leaves six children to mourn his loss.

ROSEBERRY

Church Services were continued on Sunday afternoon, after a lapse of several months. Quite a large number availed themselves of the privilege of listening to the Rev. Mr. Wright of Irma, and also to the Irma Choir.

The Easter music rendered by the latter was much enjoyed by all and it is to be hoped that the choir will visit Roseberry again.

Some excitement was created on Sunday afternoon, by the appearance of great clouds of smoke from the Jamieson ranch. A number of men rushed from church to find the grass on fire, and the flames nearing a granary containing oats. In spite of all efforts the building burned as well as some of the contents.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton, who has had pneumonia, is slowly recovering.

The Wastebasket

What has become of the old fashioned local boys and girls who could enjoy an evening spent in playing old maid or authors.

There is one woman here who is said to show great faith in her husband. It is reported she is willing to sit quietly in the rear seat and let him do the driving.

Times do change. It used to be that a woman could make her husband a necktie out of one of her silk skirts. Now she can make a silk skirt out of one of his neckties.

Two convivial friends were wending their way along the Main street of Wainwright about 2 p.m., when one of them stopped to gaze at a sign.

"Watcha lookin' at?" said the other.

"That sign."

"Whazit say?"

"Ladies Ready to Wear Clothes."

"Dern near time, if any one was to ask me," came the reply.

Ross — 11 A.M.
Alma Mater — 2 P.M.
Roseberry — 3.30 P.M.

The Official Board are purchasing twenty-five additional chairs for the Church. These with the twenty-five purchased by the Trustee Board are being joined in threes. We shall have seats for all who come Sunday.

DON'T FORGET MOTHER

"If I were hanged on the highest hill I know whose love would follow me still."

Mother o' mine, Mother o' mine!"

The Church School will meet next Sunday, May 13th at 11 A. M. to observe Mother's Day with a special program and wants you to come. You will be welcomed by the playing of "Home Sweet Home," by the orchestra as you enter the door, and a Mother's Day pin of purple and white carnation will be pinned on you in honor of your mother. A small special gift will be made to the youngest mother, the oldest mother, and the mother attending with the largest number of children. The attendance lately has been around seventy. Our aim for next Sunday is eighty. Will you be one?

Dr. H. L. Coursier, Dentist, resumed his practice at Irma last Tuesday. The Doctor will be in Irma each Tuesday during the summer. Since here last summer he has added a complete equipment for administering gas for patients who desire to take gas. This equipment is in connection with the Wainwright office.

The young people have all the material ready for the Valley Ball game and will meet on the school grounds next Saturday, May 12th at 8 p.m. to put the game in order for playing. This is a fine community venture, any number from four to fifty can play the game at the same time. So forget your troubles and play Valley Ball.

Household Helps.

LEMON FLUFF PIE—3-4 cup of Sugar, 1 Lemon, 4 tablespoons cold water, 3 Eggs. Take yolks of eggs and half the sugar and the water, and the grated rind and juice of the lemon. Cook till thick, stirring constantly. Take whites of two eggs, beat stiff and add other half of the sugar. Pour boiling mixture over the whites and beat till thoroughly blended. Pour into baked shell and put in oven of medium heat for just five minutes.

—Mrs. Geo. Hoskins.

LEMON PIE—4 Tablespoons Corn Starch, 1-1-4 cups boiling water, 1 cup Sugar, 1-2 tablespoon butter, 2 Eggs. Juice and small amount of rind of one lemon. Mix cornstarch and sugar thoroughly. Pour the boiling water over the mixture and boil 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Add yolks, lemon juice and rind, and egg whites beaten. Pour in baked shell, cover with meringue made of whites. —Mrs. J. Ash.

SALAD DRESSING—Beat one egg well, add a small tspn salt, 1 large tspn mustard, and add 1 can Borden's Condensed sweetened milk (Eagle Brand). Beat well then add 1 cup weak vinegar and beat with egg beater 3 minutes. Beating is everything because it doesn't require cooking. It will be thin for a few minutes, but will soon thicken. —Mrs. J. L. Dadds.

DUMPLING PUDDING—1 Pt. Water, 1 handful raisins, 1-2 cup white sugar, butter the size of an egg. Boil 15 minutes. For the dumplings take 1 cup flour, 1 dessertspoon sugar, 2 teaspoons baking powder, a pinch of salt. Mix in a soft dough with milk or water. Drop by spoonfuls into the boiling mixture. Cover and keep boiling for 15 or 20 minutes.

CREAMED CABBAGE & CHEESE
Cook and drain the cabbage well. Cut up. Place cabbage, cream sauce and grated cheese in layers. Have cheese on top. Bake until cheese is slightly brown about 20 minutes in fairly hot oven.

PUMPKIN PIE—1 can Pumpkin, 1 Qt. milk, warmed, 4 eggs, ginger, salt, brown sugar to taste. Add whites of eggs last—whipped.

DATE LOAF—1-2 cup Butter, 3-4 cup Sugar, 2 Eggs, 1-2 cup Milk, 1-2 tspn Soda, 1-2 cup Flour, 1 cup Dates, 1 cup Chopped Walnuts. Cream butter, add sugar, then eggs, one at a time. Dissolve soda in milk and add to mixture. Sift in the flour, add dates and walnuts and flour enough to make consistency of fruit cake. Bake 1 hour in moderate oven.

PRUNE WHIP—Cook 1-1-2 cups prunes until soft then remove pits. Take whites of four eggs, whip until dry. Then whip one cup of white sifted sugar into the egg. Beat the prunes into the eggs and put into a buttered bake dish and bake in a slow oven for about 25 minutes. Serve cold with whipped cream.

Big Programme is being arranged for Irma Sports Day on June 13th. Bigger and Better than ever.

Empire Builders

Empire Shopping Week, which was observed throughout Canada last month, appears to have made an especially strong appeal to the people of Western Canada. This may be surprising to many people in the Eastern provinces who are still laboring under the delusion that British and Empire sentiment is not overly strong in the West, and that it has been weakened by the influx of settlers of other than British origin. But it is not surprising to the average Westerner; on the contrary, to him it is but the natural outcome of the thought and outlook of the West.

It is not in the East, but in the West, that the strongest approval is given to the British Preference feature in the Canadian tariff, and it is in the West, rather than the East, that public opinion favors further, albeit gradual, extensions of that Preference with a view to a lowering of duties and still greater encouragement of British trade in this Dominion. In fact, there is a very strong sentiment in the West which would welcome the development of Preference to the point where all customs duties on British-made and British-produced goods were wiped out entirely.

Empire Shopping Week had for its object the focussing of people's attention upon certain economic factors in the development of Canada as a component part of the British Commonwealth of Nations and of the Empire as a whole. Undoubtedly, sentiment provides a mighty urge to all Canadians to give a voluntary preference to Empire goods when making purchases, but, as was the case with prohibition of the liquor traffic, sentiment is not in itself sufficient. It is the economic factor which, in these modern days, provides the most powerful argument. And Western Canada is profoundly interested in the economic factor.

World trade today is, as it has always been and always will be, a system of barter—the exchange by one country of those products and articles of which it produces a surplus to another country which requires these things, and to accept payment therefor in other goods of which such country produces a surplus but which the first mentioned country requires to import. Money is merely a convenient means of effecting such exchange. In other words, trade between nations operates on exactly the same principles as trade between individuals.

Western Canada, and Canada as a whole, has a surplus of products to sell. If those countries which require the things Canada has to sell are to be in a position to buy and pay for them, we must, in turn, buy from those countries the things they have to sell and which we cannot or do not produce ourselves and must import.

Last year Canada sold to the rest of the British Empire $269,000,000 worth of products, and she purchased from them, on the other hand, Canadian goods to the value of $299,000,000 more from the United States than we sold across the line. Canada was enabled to pay the United States for the excess of goods imported because of its excess of sales to other parts of the Empire. While Canada did not lose by this procedure, the Empire did not gain; in fact, it costed net loss.

Now as our major exports must cross the seas to Great Britain, Ireland, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, it will be to Canada's advantage, in a purely business way, to buy as largely as possible in those countries and thus provide return exports for the ships which carry Canada's products into the markets of the far-flung British Empire. The larger these return cargoes, the more profitably can the vessels be operated, the greater the number of ships that will be put on these ocean lanes of transportation, the keener the competition for the business, and, as an inevitable economic result, the lower the freight charges levied on both out-going and in-coming shipments.

The more Canada buys from its sister nations in the British Commonwealth, the more they can buy from us. The one reacts on the other, and trade both ways can thus be built up and grow like the proverbial snowball. It has long been declared that "trade follows the flag," but it is also true that the flag has followed trade, and to the traders of the past we largely owe the Empire of today.

It is equally true that the development of inter-Empire trade has a direct and pronounced effect on immigration, and, inasmuch as Canada is particularly anxious to secure a larger proportion of British settlers, the more we trade with Britain, the more we will win Canada and Canadian products and Canadian resources and possibilities become known among the British people.

The slogan of Empire Shopping Week is indubitably true—"Empire Buyers are Empire Builders." Let Canada build by buying.

Radio Phone Service Extended

Three Western Cities Have Been Added To List

A considerable extension in Canada of the list of towns and cities from which wireless telephone in Europe may be had has been announced by Alex. Johnston, Deputy Minister of Marine and Fisheries, following the receipt of a statement from the office of the Secretary of State for the Dominions in London.

Up until April 11, the service was available to certain towns in Belgium, Germany, Holland and Sweden, but since that date it has been extended to Paris and to certain towns in Switzerland, including Geneva. Further extensions on the Continent of Europe will be made later. It is also announced that after April 14, last, any further extensions would embrace simultaneously both Canada and the United States.

The following cities in Canada have already been provided with this wireless telephone service across the Atlantic: Montreal, Toronto, Quebec, Ottawa, Hamilton, St. John, Halifax, Winnipeg, Calgary and Vancouver. Western cities added recently to the service are: Fort William, Edmonton and Regina.

World's Stock Of Gold

Reserve Board Reports $9,475,000,000 At End Of Last Year

The total stock of monetary gold held by Governments, central banks and similar institutions throughout the world, either in their own vaults or under earmark with correspondents, at the end of 1927, the latest date for which comprehensive figures are available, appears to have been not less than $9,475,000,000, and to have shown an increase for the year of at least $500,000,000, according to the Federal Reserve Board's bulletin for March, just made public.

Uncanny Inventions Exhibited in London

One Machine Types, Adds, and Multiplies At Same Time

Uncanny efficient inventions were to be seen of the Business Efficiency Exhibition at Holland Park Hall, London, Eng., recently. The devices shown included: An electric machine that opens envelopes at the rate of 30,000 an hour; a machine that types, adds, and multiplies at the same time. A machine that seals, franks, counts, postmarks and prints a slogan on envelopes at the rate of 300 per minute. Portable typewriters in colors to match the home or personal color scheme. A lock which records on a tape the time the door is opened, by whom, and whether from the outside or inside of the room.

NEGLECTED ANAEMIA

Often Leads To The Most Serious Consequences

In no disorder is delay or neglect more dangerous than in anaemia. Usually the first noticeable signs are pale lips and cheeks, dark rings under the eyes and a feeling of weariness. Then follow headaches, backaches, palpitation and breathlessness. The only way that anaemia can be overcome is to enrich the blood, and it is because of their wonderful blood-enriching and blood-making properties that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have won such great success in the treatment of this often most stubborn disease.

Thousands of young girls who were in an anaemic condition were brought back to good health by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. One of these, Miss Katie McChargen, Port Hood, N.S., says: "I praise the day I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had not been feeling well for some time. I was very pale, had severe headaches, dizzy spells and occasional fainting spells. The least exertion would leave me tired and breathless. In this condition I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I continued their use until I had taken six boxes. I was again enjoying good health. I hope my experience will lead other sufferers to give this medicine a fair trial."

If you are all run-down, or weak, you should begin at once to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and you will soon be well and strong. These pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"Dry Ice" New Idea

Substitute Has Been Used Successfully In States

By the use of "dry ice," or solidified carbon dioxide, the price of ice cream will be cut considerably within the next few years, says Fred Rasmussen, of Harrisburg, executive of the International Ice Cream Manufacturers' Association, during the annual convention of the body.

Only fifty pounds of the "dry ice" will supply the needs of an ice cream delivery truck for nearly a day, he declared, and use of the substitute will spread rapidly when it is made in quantity. It is now being used in transporting ice cream by truck from Philadelphia to Atlantic City.

Miller's Worm Powders do not need the after-help of castor oil or any purgative to complete their thoroughness, because they are so thorough in themselves. One dose of them, and they will be found palatable by all children, will end the worm trouble by making the stomach and bowels untenable to the parasites. And not only this, but the powders will be certain to exert most beneficial influences in the digestive organs.

Forest Effect On Temperatures
Forests have an equalizing effect on extremes of temperature. Records for Canada show that in forested districts maximum temperatures are lower and minimum temperatures higher than in adjoining deforested tracts.

The British museum library has announced that there are nearly 4,000,000 books on its 50 miles of shelf.

Short of Breath Dizzy, Sinking Spells COULDN'T WALK FAR

Mrs. L. A. Oliver, Granville Ferry, N.S., writes:—"A few years ago I had dizzy, sinking spells and I could hardly stand up without taking hold of something to support me, and I could not walk any distance on account of being so short of breath."

"I had taken a lot of doctor's medicine, but it did me no good, only for the time being, so reading in the B.B.B. I learned about—"

A Region Of Wondrous Beauty

Plea Is Made For Establishment Of Government Park In Bella Coola Valley, B.C.

If you like to get out in the wild country and hunt wild animals, such as grizzlies, with the camera, by all means go to the Bella Coola Valley, B.C. I have spent the last four summers there, and I am advocating the establishment there of a Dominion Park to be known as Mackenzie Park, in honor of the first white man who crossed Canada, and who reached the sea at that point—this to be connected up by means of a highway to be known as Mackenzie Highway, paralleling part of Mackenzie's route so that people can go from New York to California and to Bella Coola over the Mackenzie Highway, existing Mackenzie Park and returning by way of the Rocky Mountains Park, and so on. This would bring money into British Columbia and Canada. If the Dominion will not carry out this plan I hope to get some wealthy men interested, as the region is one of wonderful beauty. Within a distance of 70 miles, it is easily traversed in one day by motor boat or auto; the can visit both the so-called rainy coast and the desert interior. One can go from sea level to 12,000 feet, can have boating on both salt, fresh, swift and still waters, paddling, fishing, motor boating, sailing, etc. There is excellent trout fishing and good animal photography, grizzly bears being very numerous. Thousands of water falls, one of them over 800 feet high, 18 glaciers may be seen from one place, and there are many others. It costs only $10.00 for a round trip from Vancouver by boat through the fjords of the Stomach of Canada. I have taken my first moving picture, showing life in this region. Board in the valley can be had at 50 cents a meal, good cream, fresh fruit, kindly, nice people, largely of Norwegian descent, noted for cleanliness, and good cooking. Nobody let you know of anybody who will help me get this park and highway established. We should get about 20 miles wide by 70 miles long of country which is still in the Crown; that is, it is government land, and it is of practically no other value except for park purposes."

—Harland T. Smith, Department of Mines, Ottawa.

Mothers can easily know when their children are troubled with worms, and they lose no time in applying a reliable remedy—Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator.

Settlers From Across the Line

Many Inquiries Are Being Received From Prospective Settlers

"Not only will a large number of Canadians return from the United States, but many citizens of that country will seek homes in Canada during the coming year," predicted Hon. Robert Forke, Minister of Immigration. His prediction, he explained, is based on reports of Canadian agents in the United States, who state that they are receiving an almost unprecedented number of inquiries for information concerning Canadian settlement.

Has Unusual Occupation

For twenty-three years Lawrence Quinn, chief oysterman at the Hotel Lincoln, New York, has been opening oysters for a living. He opens an average of 3,900 oysters a day, and during his twenty-three years in this work has found dozens of pearls. None of the stones were of fabulous value, but there have been enough small ones to make a very fine necklace and some pendants, and Quinn says he has hope that some day he will pick up one that will be of real value.

Winnipeg Population

The official figure of the population of Winnipeg proper for 1928, as given by the Assessment Department, is 293,377. Not since 1910 has the 300,000 mark been reached. This year's figure is exceeded only by the population totals for 1914 and 1915, when the figures were 293,255 and 212,880 respectively.

FIRST CONTRACTS AWARDED

Canada's Air Mail Service Will Eventually Cover Dominion

The nucleus of a transcontinental aerial mail service is being established by Canada with the awarding of contracts for four important mail services. Eventually letters will cross the country from Halifax to Vancouver in 36 hours by aeroplane, instead of in five days by railway as at present.

The contracts now entered into provide for a service between Father Point and Montreal and Ottawa, another service of four trips per week between Montreal and Toronto, and all year-round service between Montreal and Albany, N.Y., to connect with the United States Transcontinental Air Service. The total cost will be $201,150.

The Father Point to Montreal service and the Montreal to Ottawa service will be provided by the Canadian Transcontinental Airways, Limited, of Quebec, the Father Point to Montreal section costing $49,500, or $1.25 per flying mile. The Montreal to Ottawa service is to cost $8,250 for the season. For the Montreal-Toronto service the cost will be $10,000, or $1.25 per flying mile, and the Montreal to Albany service will cost $95,900.

According to J. A. Wilson, Director of Civil Aviation in Canada, 60 per cent. of the Royal Air Force pilots during the war were Canadians. Since the war Canada has been devoting her activities to such operations as forest protection, surveying, mapping, and the assisting of engineering and geological survey work in the northern region. It would take some time to build up a transcontinental air mail service, owing to the sparse population of the Dominion, but eventually the people would demand more rapid service than could be given by the present method.

An Oil That Is Prized Everywhere

Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil was put upon the market without any flourish over fifty years ago. It was put up to meet the want of a small section, but as soon as its merits became known it had a whole continent for a field, and it is now known and prized throughout this continent. There is nothing equal to it.

Monarchy Nationalized

People Look On Royal Family As One Of Their Possessions

The profound difference between the relationship of the people to the Monarchy during the "Victorian Age" and what it is now is that Queen Victoria held, in principle and in practice, to the ancient idea that the people were her people, the country her country, that she possessed them and ruled over them in virtue of a scarcely mitigated conception of Divine Right, whereas now the people look upon the King, the Queen and the Royal Family as their possessions, and are fonder of them and prouder of them than of any other national institution. The sense of ownership has ceased to be autocratic or semi-autocratic and has become democratic. Unlike the railways and the coal mines, the Monarchy has been nationalized.—Review of Reviews.

Americans Have Faith In British Surgeons

Famous Doctor's Services

Americans have great faith in British surgeons. A few months ago an American millionaire wanted one of the most famous surgeons to go to New York to treat his small child, and offered a very large fee.

The surgeon, however, was not prepared to make the journey. He was surprised when shortly afterwards an American doctor arrived with a complete cinema film of all the child's movements during a period of 24 hours.

To exhibit the film it was necessary to take the local cinema hall at a high fee. The British surgeon carefully examined the film and drew a report, which the American doctor took back to America.

Later, he arrived again with another film showing the result of the treatment in detail, a big cheque, and a letter of thanks from the relieved father.

Guelph, Ont.—"There is nothing better as a building tonic than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Several times when I was run-down, and my stomach, thin and impoverished blood, took it and always obtained good results. Relieved my blood, replenished me of the weak stomach, built me up in health and made me feel like a new person. I also found it splendid to take following motherhood to give me strength. I always recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to those whom I find ailing for I know them to be just as advertised."—Mrs. W. H. Skyring, 52 Nottingham St.

Hardy Norse Explorers Make Trip To Barren Lands On The Coppermine River

Waking the echoing silence, disturbed only at long intervals by white men over the centuries, two young Norwegians—Hjalmar Nelson-Dale and Helge Ingstad—today, if all has gone well with them, beating their dangerous way back across the barren lands from the headwaters of the Coppermine River.

Only twice in the last 160 years, so far as is known, have white men penetrated to the source of the river in the mysterious hinterland through which the Coppermine River flows.

Its discovery was made in 1772 by Samuel Hearne, following an earlier attempt in 1769, when the desertion of his Indians compelled abandonment of the effort.

Hearne's successful expedition of 1770-1772 was marred by the massacre—which he was unable to prevent—of a peaceful Eskimo tribe by his own Indians, and history has marked that fateful spot on the map of the Northland with the name of "Bloody Falls," the slaughter occurring close by some falls on the Coppermine river.

Then in 1821 came the thrilling and ill-fated Franklin expedition, which traversed 3,559 miles out and back across the barren lands from Hudson Bay, to leave the bones of many of its members lying in the inhospitable earth over which the survivors dragged their weary way.

Another 100 years almost elapsed until, in 1924, G. H. Blanchet, of Ottawa, made his brilliant dash into the unknown to discover the outflow of water through a rock wall of an elevated lake from whence, looking northward toward the Arctic, the peaceful Coppermine meandered slowly through a broad plain dotted with herds of caribou, to the shores of the Northern Sea.

It was in the summer of 1927 that the two young Norwegians—Nelson-Dale was born in Canada, and so is Norse-Canadian—left Edmonton for Fort Resolution, there to start out on the first leg of their hazardous journey.

In July, 1927, they wrote to O. C. Boness, Edmonton lawyer, that they were leaving Resolution—last outpost of civilization—in a few days and that if all went well they hoped to reach the Coppermine river in the fall of that year, spending a year in the "terra incognita," and returning to civilization by dog train.

The fall of 1928 should see the two adventurers safely back, provided they have met with no mishap.

Ingstad is a qualified attorney-at-law in Norway and for some time was correspondent for "Tidens Tegn," the largest newspaper in that country.

His partner has hunted and trapped in the north for some years and went north with Ingstad after a trip home to Norway in 1925-27.

Neither adventurer apparently was aware before he left that Mr. Blanchet had preceded them by three years in their attempt to reach the Coppermine river head waters.

Stunning sports frocks are simply

A stunning one-piece frock is pictured here, with all the fashion interest centered in the front, leaving the back plain in the new manner. Three set-in plaits give added width to the lower part of the skirt. The deep V-shaped front and vest are of the latest mode, while the round collar and flared cuffs may be trimmed with fur. Buttons—an important feature—this season adorn this attractive model, and a ribbon girdle crisscrossed into a front closing buckle adds a final air of chic. No. 1479 is for misses and is in sizes 16, 18 and 20 years. Size 18 years requires 3 1/2 yards 39-inch material, or 2 1/2 yards 54-inch, and 1 1/2 yards 6-inch ribbon for belt. Price 29 cents the pattern.

Personality Can Be Changed

Roosevelt Was Example Of What Person Can Do

Personality is a strange thing. Sometimes I think we are born with one special kind just as we are born with a certain nose and with hands whose finger prints are unlike any other in the world, and which can't be changed. But, on the other hand, if Theodore Roosevelt had allowed the personality he was born with to rule him, he would have gone through life a despondent anemic individual with a spirit weighed down by the despair of tuberculosis. But he pulled himself up and out of it. Sometimes I think anybody can do the same thing. And sometimes I think that selfishness is harder to cure even than a physical disease.

Mistress—It is very ungrateful of you to leave. Haven't we always treated you as one of the family?
Servant—Yes. That is why I am leaving.
He: No. Fortune has never knocked at my door, but his daughter often has.
She:—His daughter?
He: Yes—Miss Fortune.

PRaises Canadian Hospitality

Baron Perényi, Minister of the Interior for the Republic of Hungary, who visited the Hungarian settlements adjacent to the lines of the Canadian National Railways in Western Canada recently, expressed himself as much impressed by the help which Canadian-born citizens are giving newly arrived Hungarians in settling on the land and generally establishing themselves in Canada.

"Canada is a place where anyone can make an honest living with hard work," His Excellency said. "All that has been said of Canada is true. It is a land of real opportunity and I shall certainly come back again where I find so many of my countrymen happy, contented and prosperous."

The photograph shows Baron Perényi on the left and Albert Paizs, noted Budapest editor on the right. Mr. Paizs visited Canada three years ago and published a book, "The Hungarian in Canada," which attracted many Hungarians to Canada.

Canadian "Moth" Planes Are Helping To Combat Spread Of Wheat Rust In West

How Canadian "Moth" planes are helping to fight wheat rust at Lac du Bonnet, Norway House, Cormorant Lake, and High River, have assisted in this work. Each station is supplied with tightly stoppered bottles containing wooden paddles to which are attached microscope slides, lightly smeared with vaseline. These slides are exposed for 13 minutes of varying altitudes, the slides replaced in the bottles and then returned to the Government laboratory at Winnipeg.

"In one instance at Lac du Bonnet a surprisingly high number of spores was caught on a slide, which seemed to indicate the plane was at an altitude of 5,000 feet had travelled through a pocket of eddy air where the concentration of rust spores was very dense. Where the spores originated is speculative, but the fact that at the time threshing was being done at Morden, where there was a heavy local outbreak of rust seems to point to that district as the originating point. When the patchy nature of these outbreaks is considered, one is led to suspect that there may be some relation between these clouds or eddies of spores and localized heavy infections. One can well imagine a rain washing down these spores on a more limited area, where they would germinate and produce a heavy infection."

"The Department of Agriculture has proved on several occasions the efficiency of the aeroplane in many lines of investigation, and the day may not be far distant when "Moths" will be common in our agricultural communities."

TRANS-CANADA HIGHWAY

Construction work on the last part of the trans-Canada highway will be started early next month. The finish of the last link between Revelstoke and Golden, B.C., will complete a motor highway across Canada from Halifax to Vancouver. ### Measuring the Rainfall

One Inch Means Over 113 tons of Water To the Acre

You have often seen the statement that the rainfall during the past week has been so many inches. Do you have an adequate idea of what this means? Few people have.

You read in the weather bulletins that two or three inches of rain sometimes fall in a day, but these figures really convey very little information, and give no idea at all of the prodigality of nature.

An acre contains 6,277,640 square inches of surface, and an inch of rain means, therefore, the same number of cubic inches of water. A gallon contains 231 cubic inches of water, and an inch of rainfall means 22,422 gallons to the acre, and, as a gallon of water weighs 10 1/2 lbs., the rainfall on an acre is 226,220 lbs. Counting 2,000 lbs. to the ton, an inch of rain means over 113 tons per acre.

How He Deciphered It

Chemist Made Up Prescription From Badly Written Testimonial

A young man was given a testimonial so shockingly written that he was unable to decipher it. A friend suggested that he should take it to a chemist, for chemists are skilled men, having spent long lives decoding what doctors call handwritings. So the testimonial was handed to a chemist.

"What do you make of that?" asked the young man. The chemist glanced over it for a moment and then disappeared behind a screen. There was a subdued tinkle of glasses for a couple of minutes and then he emerged. "I think you will find that all right," he said handing over a bottle. "Half-a-crown, please!"

Peggy: "Oh, mummy, may I go to the fancy-dress party as a milkmaid?"

"No, dear, you are too small."

Peggy: "Then why can't I go as a condensed milkmaid?"

Nervous Youth—"Darling, you are the breath of my life."

Fair One—"Well, why don't you hold your breath?"

Blubber is now believed to be the equipment that enables whales to withstand the pressure of great depths.

German Settler Booms Canada

During Trip To Homeland Induces Thirty Young Men To Migrate To Dominion

Carl Schulz, of Uckmark, Brandenburg, Germany, who came to Canada a year ago and purchased 1,000 acres of unbroken land on the Canadian National Railways near St. Walburg, Saskatchewan, proved to be a good colonization agent for Canada. Following his purchase he returned to Germany to settle matters regarding his estate there and while in his homeland he talked the gospel of Canadian opportunity. The result was that when he returned to Winnipeg recently he brought with him thirty promising young men and more than one hundred are following as soon as they can dispose of their interests overseas. The twenty will work with Mr. Schulz until they are able to take up land of their own.

Mr. Schulz says that a very heavy immigration to Canada from Germany can be looked for, starting next year. Thousands of young Germans are turning their eyes towards Canada and will come as soon as they can dispose of their holdings in Germany.

Johnny: "Is sister going to have all this?"
Mother: "No, my darling, this is for you."
Johnny: "So little!"

A Scotsman rang up a doctor in a state of great agitation. "Come at once," he said, "ma wee bairn has swallowed a saxeppine." "How old is it?" asked the doctor.

"1894."

"This is intolerable. I have found a button in the soup."

"Lucky man. The management gives a glass of brandy to whoever discovers a button in the soup." — Buen Humor, Madrid.

Build Mammoth Grain Elevator

New Wheat Pool Elevator At Fort William Will Be Modern For The Continent

The board of directors of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Wheat Producers, Limited, has awarded the contract for the erection of the superstructure of Pool Terminal No. 7, Fort Arthur, to the Barnett McQueen Construction Company, Fort William, Ont.

This new terminal elevator, which is being built by the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, will be the most modern and the fastest terminal grain elevator on the North American continent, according to C. D. Howe, of C. D. Howe & Co., consulting engineers, Fort Arthur. It will have two storages of 3,000,000 bushels each, in addition to a work house with a capacity of 500,000 bushels, and it will be able to take delivery of 300 cars of grain in ten hours, or 500 cars per day during the rush season. It will have a shipping capacity of 150,000 bushels per hour, and a drying capacity of 1,000 bushels per hour.

Large Area Of Forest Land Of the total non-agricultural area of Canada about one-half can be made to produce timber crops if permanently dedicated, protected, and managed to that end. Investigations show that the only economic use for one-third of the land area is in the growing of wood.

"Where do the old autos go?"
"They don't."

"Waiter, I am going to die. Bring me a beer!"
"Yes, sir, Light or dark?" — Moustique, Charlott.

SIXTEENTH ANNUAL DISTRICT CONVENTION OF THE W. C. T. U.

Vernion, Alberta, May 2nd, 1928

The sixteenth Annual Convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union opened in the United Church, Vernion, May 2d, with a large attendance of delegates from all parts of the district. The morning session began with devotional exercises led by Mrs. Bryden of Mannville. The President, Mrs. H. M. Hilliker, after extending greetings and speaking briefly regarding the responsibility of those in charge of the homes of a nation declared Convention open for business. Reports of Superintendents of Departments showed an increase in interest and in membership all along the line. During the day many helpful suggestions were brought out by the different speakers regarding methods of work and the necessity and way of reporting the various activities of Unions. A Parliamentary drill on Duties of Officers by Mrs. L. C. McKinney, the Provincial President, was particularly helpful. A Paper on Peace and Arbitration by Mrs. Rowe of Edmonton was also an outstanding feature of the first day. An exceedingly pleasant feature of the Convention was the banquet tendered the visiting delegates by the local Union. Nearly seventy delegates and Guests were present at the function, which was presided over by Mrs. J. W. G. Morrison, President of Vernion Union. The speakers were Mayor Fellow, who extended greetings on behalf of the town, Mr. Morrison, Chairman of the School Board, and Reverend's Sage, Boyd, Reimer, and Bell, who spoke for the Churches. Mrs. McArthur replied for the delegates, after which Mrs. H. M. Hilliker, Dist. President, Mrs. L. C. McKinney, Prov. President, and Mrs. M. Hyslop of Viking, all spoke regarding the work being done by the W. C. T. U.

The recording secretary's report showed fifteen Unions all doing good work, with a total membership of over four hundred, which is a decided increase over last year. The increase in membership is due largely to a Daisy Chain drive which has been carried on during the last months with a view to a fifty per cent. increase, and we believe that we will go over the top.

During convention Mrs. McKinney announced that a contest had been inaugurated by the publishers of the Montreal Weekly and Northern Messenger. The contest will be carried on in Sunday Schools throughout the Dominion, and will be supervised by the W. C. T. U., beginning in September.

In the evening a Gold Medal Contest was held. Eight contestants took part; two from Edmonton, two from Lamont, three from Mannville, and one from Viking. After a very splendid contest in which all the contestants showed remarkable oratorical ability, the gold medal was awarded to Llewellyn Weeks, of Forest Heights school, Edmonton. Mrs. Hyslop presented the medal with a few well chosen remarks. The musical part of the program, which was a wonderful treat, was supplied by Vernion artists.

Wednesday morning election of officers took place, resulting as follows: President, Mrs. H. M. Hilliker; Vice-President, Mrs. James McArthur; Edmon- ton; Corr. Sec., Mrs. R. Stinson; Edmon- ton; Rec. Sec., Mrs. J. D. Stephens, Vermion; Treas., Mrs. J. L. Hay, Ryley; Y. Sec., Mrs. R. H. McPherson, Holden; L. T. L. Sec., Mrs. Harris, Lamont; Press Supt., Mrs. A. O. Sproule, Edmon- ton; Scientific Temperance and Anti-Narcotics, Mrs. Morrison, Greenshields; Medal Con- tests, Mrs. Menzies, Lamont; S. School work, Mrs. S. Ross, Lamont; Soc. Hy- gienic, Mrs. I. Townsend, Mannville; Med. Temperance, Mrs. Johnston, La- voy; L. V. R. Mrs. R. Swan, Lamont; Parlor Meetings, Miss Nellie Whit- taker, Bruce; Literature, Mr. J. W. G. Morrison, Vernion. This will be Mrs. H. M. Hilliker's fourth term as president. The election was unanimous and greeted with prolonged ap- plause.

Other interesting features of con- vention were "The Call of Youth— How to Meet It" by Mrs. Loghrin, Lamont. It was a wonderful paper, taking us through the various prob- lems which mothers have with their children from babyhood to young manhood and womanhood, giving splendid suggestions how to meet per- plexing questions which arise.

An invitation from Lavo- Delegates to have the convention meet in Lavo- next year was accepted on motion, and greeted with applause. After a brief prayer for guidance dur- ing the year by our beloved Prov. Pres. Mrs. McKinney, the Dist. Pres., on mo- tion of adjournment, declared the con- vention closed.

The closing meeting of the session took the form of a public meeting over which Mrs. J. K. Knight, Edmon- ton, Vice-Pres., of the district, presided. After devotional exercises, a splendid musical program was contrib- uted by Mrs. Mrs. H. M. Stephens, Mrs. Heckart, and Mrs. Newlove, ac- companied by Mr. Markel at the or- gan. Mrs. Burgess, of Viking, excel- led as a reader, and her rendition of "A Pioneer Story" and "The Shakers' Courtship" was well received. Mrs. Louise C. McKinney, of Claresholm, Prov. Pres. of the Alberta W. C. T. U., followed with an excellent address, taking as her subject Alberta's slogan: Sell your Stuff, and in a remis- nent mood compared conditions un- der different systems of dealing with the liquor traffic, emphasizing the point that we must war against the custom of social drinking, saying that our women have not considered the effect of the occasional social glass, brandy in sauce and such apparently small things. Our task is to overthrow the custom of social drinking and we must find a way to make this a possi- bility.

he closing address was given by Mrs. M. Hyslop, late Dominion Orga- nizer of the W.C.T.U., who took for her subject, "Is it Worth While?" re- lating an episode that took place at the close of the last campaign in On- tario. While the prohibitionists were faced with disappointment and defeat, they began to talk of their plans to carry on, when an old temperance stalwart, heart broken and discour- aged, asked the question, "Is it worth while?" Mrs. Hyslop gave three reasons why it is worth while: 1. Be- cause we are Christians; 2. From the humanitarian viewpoint; 3. Patriotism and love of country.

THE NAVY LEAGUE OF CANADA

Alberta Division.

The Rev. Fred Cooke, Organizing Secretary of the Navy League of Can- ada, who has been in Irma, taking up subscriptions to Canada's National Magazine of Yachting and Shipping and donations for the Navy League, wishes to thank the citizens for their assistance as they gave about $22.00 to the Alberta Division.

The Navy League of Canada assists the widows and orphans of our men of the Merchant service as they do not receive Government assistance. The Navy League supports Sailors' Homes and Institutes, etc., in all our largest Canadian ports from coast to coast and looks after the welfare of our seamen when ashore. The Navy League also trains boys and young men and makes better Canadian citizens of them.

The Alberta Division is required to raise $8,000, as its quota to the $250,000.00 budget and hopes to raise this amount as quickly as possible, with the combined assistance of our people throughout the Province of Alberta. The Magazine is published monthly and it ought to be in every Canadian home.

Regular Membership, including Can- ada's National Magazine of Yachting and Shipping and also a button, is $3.00.

Subscriptions to the Sailor Maga- zine, and renewals, as well as dona- tions for the Alberta Division, can be sent: Jas. A. Irvine, Esq., Hon. Sec- retary, or Rev. Fred Cooke, Organizing Secretary, 817 First St., E., Calgary.

VIKING

The Holden Dramatic Club presented their three act comedy "A Full House" here last Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Anglican Women's Auxiliary. It was one of the most enjoyable home talent productions given here for a long time, and well deserved the full house that greeted them when the curtain rose for the first act. The play was a rollicking and laughter provoking affair from beginning to end, centering around the trials of a newly married couple and some misunderstandings that cropped up ever so often. It all began when the new husband tried to assist a friend also matrimonially inclined in procuring some letters he had written to a girl whom he now did not wish to marry. The husband got the letters alright for his friend, but on the way home on the train he exchanged travelling bags with a burglar who had stolen some jewels, and when he got home—well complications ensued, which kept the crowd in an uproar to the finish.

Well No. 15 is now being drilled by the Northwestern Utilities Gas Company who owns the plant and franchise that supplies Edmonton and intervening towns with natural gas for heat, light and power. No. 15 is located on the Walter Lawes farm, 8 miles northwest of town, and it is expected to be finished in less than sixty days. A day and night crew started last Wednesday and we hear that they are down near the four hundred foot mark and going strong.

Mr. Adams, of Calgary, representative of the Oil Well Supply Co., visited the field last week where he has sold a new outfit of tools to the Northwestern Utilities.

Glen M. Ruby, vice president of the Hudson Bay-Marlard Oil Co., was down on Friday looking over the progress being made on the work of sinking their first deep test well in the Alberta fields. The first rig is now being erected on the Fred Cottrell farm eight miles northeast of town. Mr. Ruby expressed himself as being well satisfied with what has been done to get the rig and derrick on the ground, and it is anticipated that drilling will commence about the middle of June or perhaps earlier.

Mr. L. R. Coles has been appointed Manager at the Hensall branch of the Bank of Montreal, to succeed Mr. W. A. Houston. Mr. Coles is a native of Ontario and started his banking career in the Wheatley branch of the former Merchants Bank of Canada. He afterwards had wide experience in various branches in Alberta, and in 1916, at which time he was Manager of the Donalds branch, joined the Canadian Expeditionary Force with which he served for four years. On returning to Canada he was made Manager of branch at Three Hills, Alberta, and in 1923 was transferred to the Viking branch as Manager. From early in 1927 to the date of his present appointment, he has been attached to the Superintendent's Department in Toronto.—Huron Examiner.

Mr. L. R. Coles, a local dealer, received a carload of Chrysler cars on Saturday. In the shipment were four "52" coaches and one "62" sedan. They look fine and their performance and durability is said to be exceptional. Laurie Scott, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Geo. Agnew of Tofield, passed through here on Friday to the farm near Phillips. Laurie played hockey with the Springfield, Mass. professional hockey team the past season.

Those who attended the W.C.T.U. annual convention at Vermilion last week were Mrs. Basil Hilliker, Mrs. H. M. Hilliker, Mrs. Hyslop, and Mrs. Burgess. A son of Mrs. Burgess took part in the gold medal contest held at the convention.

The gas lamp standard which was knocked down by a car early this spring has been replaced this week, and now the town is lit up as well as ever—in fact much better than any town along the line east or west.

The Chandler car has made its appearance in town, two models being brought down on Monday by W. H. Sheets, the local dealer, one for H. Rolland and one for himself. The Chandler company make only sedans of the six cylinder type, and are advertised as having the Pike's Peak motor and all the latest improvements, such as the Westinghouse hydraulic brakes, etc.

T. O. Stock, a brother of our townsman H. P. Stock, arrived from Los Angeles, California last week and is spending some time here. Mr. Stock has spent about two years in California. He is quite an artistic fellow judging from the signs and show cards with which he has decorated the drug store.

Another carload of Chevrolets were unloaded for C. A. Dupre here on Tuesday, most of which are already sold, and he expects another shipment on Friday.

Next Sunday, May 13th has been set aside as Mother's Day. The day will be appropriately observed in the local churches in honor of all mothers.

MILES of Low-Price Transportation

A GOOD used car is the lowest cost transportation you can buy. The unused miles of dependable service in the used cars we have on our floor at the present time offer remarkable opportunities for money-saving. The distance these cars have travelled is insignificant when compared to the thousands of miles of Unused Transportation which they represent . . . and the prices are far below what you would expect. Let us demonstrate to you how easy it is to own a good used car.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Henry James Canble, pioneer railway builder and explorer, died at his home in Vancouver, at the age of ninety-one, after a brief illness with pneumonia.

Coal production in Canada during March was slightly less than in February. Alberta produced 616,063 tons. British Columbia's output was 251,832 tons.

Capt. George H. Wilkins, scarcely hauled from his great feat of flying across the top of the world by aeroplane, already is planning a new air venture this time over the Antarctic at the other end of the world.

The government is of the opinion that women should have the right to sit in the Senate and means will be devised to amend the British North America Act to permit appointment of women to the upper chamber.

The resignation of Sir Henry Drayton as member for West York was announced in the House of Commons. He has accepted the appointment of chairman of the Ontario Liquor Board.

A notice of motion for the tabling of correspondence between Canada and Great Britain on the subject of the Canadian has been given by C. H. "Cahoon" Casper, M.P. for St. Lawrence-St. George. The notice calls for a list of foreign honors and decorations conferred on Canadians since 1919.

Dr. Henry M. Torg, president of the University of Alberta since its organization, 20 years ago, is tendering his resignation, to take effect at the end of the current college year next month, in order that he may accept the permanent chairmanship of the National Council of Scientific Research, with headquarters probably at Ottawa.

To Beautify Ottawa

Proposed Outlay Of Three Million Dollars To Beautify Up Federal Capital

Plans for the federal district commission for the beautification of the city of Ottawa were laid before the House of Commons by Premier MacKenzie King.

The bill, a Government measure, proposes:

1 To reduce from $250,000 to $200,000 the annual amount granted to the Ottawa federal district commission.

2 A further expenditure of $3,000,000 for expropriations of the Russell House property.

The plan-sketch maps were distributed among members that they might better follow the scheme is to create a large park in the centre of Ottawa, opening up the approaches to Parliament Hill.

A feature of the park scheme is a large circular space, after the style of Piccadilly Circus in London, around which one-way traffic will move. The centre of the space will be the heart of the capital. There, in all probability, the national war memorial will be erected.

"A country is known among the citizens of the world by its capital," said Mr. King. The capital of Canada should be second to none in the British Empire. The various provincial capitals were a credit to their provinces, and it should be remembered, he added, that Ottawa was the federal capital for all the provinces.

Genius At Mental Arithmetic
Scientists of Europe are interested in the case of a woman in a Welsh hospital who can neither read nor write but is a genius at mental arithmetic. She can solve mathematical problems in 30 seconds, and is said to never give an incorrect answer. She also can recall a large number of historical dates at will.

Small Town Papers

FRANK PARKER STOCKBRIDGE
Reporter for Small Towns in From Saturday Evening Post, Associated Press, and other leading publications. This is his first book.

"The total circulation of these 11,000 country weeklies is about 9,500,000, an average of a little under 1,000 copies each. That doesn't sound like much to a New Yorker, accustomed to circulation figures in the hundreds of thousands. But there are only about 600 dailies in the United States which have as many as 10,000 circulation, and the whole list of dailies circulates only about 33,000,000."

"It doesn't take a large circulation to make a country weekly profitable. Bert Mills and some of the rest of you chaps here are the acquiescent of the business. Remember that an income net of $3,000 a year in a village of 700 population is a whole lot of money; it's the equivalent of at least $10,000 a year in Chicago or New York, in what it will enable a man to do for himself and his family. It's a whole lot more than the average man in the same sized town makes as much as I should say, as anybody in town is likely to make, including the banker and the general merchant. And I don't think I'm far wrong when I put $2,500 a year as pretty nearly the minimum net profit for country weeklies, with his average close to $5,000. If I'm wrong somebody correct me."

Sounds all right to me," said an Iowa editor who had been doing nothing but let alone. "I personally know at least fifteen country publishers in Iowa who make more than $5,000 a year from the paper. It's a good job, my father, a poor fellow, who can't earn 20 per cent a year on his investment in this business, and I guess our average print circulation runs nearer $25,000 than it does $15,000."

"That will come pretty close to it," said one of the others who turned out to be the representative of a printing-office machinery. "Take the main items and check me up. First is the typesetting machine, a fine, eastern job, like the big papers use. Mighty few country papers haven't got one machine, many have two; the three thousand dollars a cheap for a typesetting machine; the $1,000 ones are more in demand. So put it at $1,000 per paper as the average of that item."

"Then there's the press. There may be some in the United States, a newspaper still being printed on a hand press, but I don't know where. I did find I had put up the other end of the press. The old-time country paper could be, and often was, printed a page at a time on an Army press, a sort of Mangle. Many of them used the Washington hand press, invented by Ben Franklin, which could be run by hand or by two or four pages at a time. The cylinder press came in, with a fed the crank while another fed the sheets, or a flat-bed steam engine to turn the press over. But all those are obsolete now. The two-revolution press, the minimum, run from that up to the flat-bed perfecting press, printing from the roll. These types of presses cost from $2,500 to $5,000. I think a fair average here is another $5,000."

"There have been $9,000 in the two main items of the plant. But we've got to put in hand type and cases for the ad, imposing stones, chases, a folder, a mangle for the press and another for the machine, and all the rest of the necessary equipment including stereotyping machinery in many instances. Certainly there's another $4,000 there. That makes an average investment of $13,000 exclusive of building. More country publishers own their buildings than rent, and $2,500 is surely not too high for an average figure of the value of the buildings, counting in those who don't own their own."

"Yes, I agree with our friend from Iowa that the average investment in country weeklies runs well above $15,000, and it is increasing all the time."

The advertising-agency man had been teetering on the edge of his chair, eager to pick up the conversation again.

"Let me give you some more figures," he insisted. "You're wondering where the country editors get the money to invest in their plants, and where their profits come from. Here are some government statistics: There are nearly 80,000,000 people—more than half the population of the United States—who live in these small towns or in the country around them. There are still 27,000,000 on the farms, although 500,000 farmer families have moved to town since June, 1928. But where did they move to? To the big cities? Don't think it; they moved to the small towns, where they are still readers of the country weeklies."

"And these 60,000,000 people, instead of being the poorest part of our population, are pretty nearly the richest, on the average. There aren't many millionaires among them, but they'll average a higher cash income per family than the big cities average. Here's a survey of Edgar County, Illinois, which shows an average cash income per family of $2,500 a year, in addition to the rent for most of them and a large part of their food supply for many of them. That's a big income when you consider how small the living expenses are in rural communities."

"Here's another survey, made by the General Federation of Women's Clubs in July, 1927, of towns under 5,000 population. The exact figures we are talking about. It shows that in these towns there are 127,885 families owning telephones, 104,410 with pianos, and 68,400 with radio sets."

"Here are some more government figures from the Department of Agriculture: The farmers of the

WHERE WILD ANIMALS BECOME TAME

Jasper National Park, which will be visited by the members of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association at the completion of their annual convention at Edmonton this year, is Canada's largest and finest game sanctuary. Within its 5,200 square miles, guns and hunting dogs are forbidden, and he who would hunt bears, deer, mountain sheep, mountain goats or other animals must do so with the camera as his weapon.

And there is as much thrill in bringing home a good snapshot of a bear or a deer, as there is in bringing home the skin or head of such a trophy.

There are 10,000 mountain sheep and an equal number of deer in Jasper National Park, according to an estimate made by J. B. Harkin, Commissioner of National Parks, in his annual report. Dealing with wild life in the park, Mr. Harkin states:

Wild life generally is increasing rapidly and all animals seem to be in good condition. From the observations of the warden staff, it is estimated that there are between 800 and 1,000 elk in the park. Hinds numbering as many as 70 and 100 have been seen in the vicinity of Cabin Creek.

A very gratifying increase is noted in Rocky Mountain sheep. They

United States—those, 27,000,000 men, women and children—spend $3,500,000,000 every year for manufactured goods; they own one-sixth of the national wealth, own one-fifth of the cost of running the national and state governments.

"They buy everything. The National Automobile Chamber of Commerce reports that they buy the majority of all motor-trucks, more than 90 per cent, of all automobiles and, naturally, nearly all the tractors. A survey by the electric-appliance industry of 750 small towns showed that 85 per cent. of the homes were wired for electricity. That's a high proportion than in some good-sized cities. The people who live in these towns and in the nearby farm-houses which also have electric current are customers for every sort of electric equipment."

"Those are the folk who make the modern country newspaper possible and profitable."

Will Soon Banish Weeds

A new law passed by the Quebec Government makes it compulsory for every person to destroy all noxious weeds on his property whether that property is cultivated or not. The weeds must be destroyed before they go to seed, and if the owner fails to carry out this work the authorities will step in and do the job, charging the farmer with the cost of removal.

Don't try to do the smallest amount of work possible for the pay you get.

Financing Is a Specialty

When Contemplating Investments

Wise People Consult a Banker

News items about agents of phony stock being sent to jail and about others who escape the law, are not infrequent today, and it makes somewhat needless, for the reason that so many of their victims are people who have entrusted their hard-earned savings to these agents or promoters. Yet there are many worthwhile concerns in which one may invest with safety. How can the good be distinguished from the bad? Very often they can't be. But those who have money to invest can be sure of their ground if they will consult their bankers or some other reputable financier.

When you're sick you consult a doctor; when you need the law, you see a lawyer. Financing is a specialty about as intricate as medicine or law. Therefore see your banker before you loosen your purse strings.

A Graceful Afternoon Or Evening Frock

Exceedingly graceful is the frock pictured here. The two-piece pointed skirt is gathered to a bodice having the lower edge slightly rounded, thereby giving a graceful line. The attractive arrangement of the surplus effect is effectively shown, and there are lace shields at the front and back. The long pointed sleeves may be omitted for evening wear, if desired, thereby making this frock suitable for many occasions. An additional note of contrast is introduced in the flowers placed at the shoulder and hip. Sizing: No. 1501 is for misses and small women, and is in sizes 16, 18 and 20 years. Size 18 (36 bust) requires 3 1/2 yards 30-inch material, or 2 yards 54-inch, and 5/8 yard all-over lace for the shields. Price 25 cents the pattern.

An Interesting Edition

London Daily Mail Pictures Events In Year 2,000

A newspaper as newspaper men thought it would be on January 1, 2000, has been published in London by the Daily Mail.

"Air fire squad section 28 flies to a fire in Regent street and quickly quenches a blaze with its 'Anti-Fire' extinguishers."

"The big murder of the day is that of a man killed by mental suggestion from his enemy."

"So greatly, in fact, has the moral power of the race increased that school children play games during the day and through a silent battery of 'memory impressors' do their studying in their sleep."

"Television is a routine part of the day's affairs. A crowd gathers in Trafalgar Square to watch a cricket match between the English and Australian teams playing each other at Sydney, on the other side of the world."

"Captain Ralph Girdlestone's 24-hour flight around the world is featured particularly because a noonday sun was shining over him all during the flight. People have to wear 'crash-proof lingerie' because flying is a part of their ordinary daily life."

"The only thing that seems unchanged is the civil war in China, which is still in the news."

The newspaper—a full-sized one of 24 pages—was published with a Daily Mail exhibition of "Homes of the Future" at the Great Olympia.

Established a Precedent

Lady Astor Gives Clever Reason Why Women Should Have Vote

The New York Times points out that laughter and cries of "Who?" greeted Lady Astor's allusion to the daughters of Zolophed in the course of the debate in the House of Commons on the "Flapper Vote." When she had explained, only an obstinate opponent could have refused to acknowledge an extremely happy reference. Zolophed, son of Hephærus, of the tribe of Manasseh, died in the course of the desert wanderings, leaving no sons, but five daughters, and the latter appealed to Moses saying, "Give unto us a possession among the brethren of our fathers." And when Moses had laid the case before the very highest authority he received the answer, "The daughters of Zolophed speak right; thou shalt surely give them a possession of an inheritance among their father's brethren." Today, as The New York Times says, all over the world, inheritance means woman's right to vote. It was very clever of Lady Astor to find such a precedent.

Temperature and Health

Constant Change Keeps People Healthy Says Yale Professor

There will be no winter and summer in our homes of the future, if science can work out a plan suggested by Professor Ellsworth Huntington, of Yale. He demonstrates that it is neither high nor low temperatures that keep us healthy or unhealthy, but a constant change in temperatures. If the thermometer stayed at either an ideal winter or summer temperature, the death rate would be high. But if ideal temperatures fluctuate by even one degree or so from day to day, the death rate drops to almost zero. A drop from twenty degrees to zero means as much as a drop from 90 to 70, he says. What an homes need, therefore, is an automatic device to give us these ups and downs from a selected ideal temperature.

The Acid Test

"Put up notices that no book agents are to be admitted to the building," said the publisher.

"But you have just advertised for agents to sell our new work," protested the secretary.

"Of course, I want to try the applicants out. If a man could be stopped by a little thing like that notice, what good would he be to us?"

Noticed Relationship

A conceited young clergyman, walking home from church with one of the ladies of his congregation, remarked: "I preached this morning to a congregation of asses."

"I thought of that," observed the lady, "when you called them beloved brethren."

Gilbert: "Horace is very religious, isn't he?"

Morgan: "I should say he is. Why, he even wears a herringbone suit on Friday!"

Fred: Do you think women can stand more suffering than men?

Jack: Well, I can hardly imagine a man wearing chifton stockings in winter.

CANADIAN FOREST PECK

We are the trustees, not the owners of our forest heritage; to keep faith with the future we must use it wisely and guard it from waste through preventable forest fires.—Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister.

Canada's forests provide employment, stimulate business, and yield rich dividends in health and pleasure. Fire is their enemy. Carelessness with fire is criminal and offenders are justly subject to the penalties provided by law.—Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior.

Forest loss by fire is total waste. Instead of being replaced by yearly growth and reforestation, Care in starting and extinguishing fire would almost entirely prevent this waste of a heritage of which we are but trustees for generations of Canadians yet unborn.—Hon. ### CHAPTER XXIII.—Continued.

"Well, there's many a good girl who come to me before without references. Mrs. Angus, I'm no such hand at references as I once was," said Miss Ritchie. "They are often written to get rid of a girl, you know."

"No, I do not know that," said Mrs. Angus. "I prefer references."

"Well, then, here you are," said Miss Ritchie. "Here's an old country girl with letters from doctors and nurses and local bodies and all—she'll do fine for you."

That morning Helmi was interviewed by four other women. She was viewed with favor by the first one, who enumerated her good points without ever thinking it unflattering. "You look clean and smart," she said; "you know how to put your clothes on straight, and you look a person square in the eye. You are a foreigner, I see. From what country?"

"Finland," said Helmi.

"Goodnight!" cried the lady, with a harsh laugh; "then it's all off. My husband had one in his bridge gone and, a positive nuisance he was, a socialist and agitator. He would put me out if I brought home a Finn. I want a British subject, Miss Ritchie. We owe it to our own to give them the choice, though, dear me, some of the English girls have been a trial, too."

The next woman who talked to Helmi kept a boardinghouse, and fancied Helmi on account of her height. "I like a tall girl," she said; "they're better. You've done it?—that's good. Yes, you are a likely looking girl. I must say—foreign, but still you have good English. I don't mind Finns— they're tempery, but clean and smart. What's that? You want to go home at night? Why? A baby? You're doing— you won't do me at all. No, sir, I had a girl with a baby once and it was always getting sick or dying or something just when I needed her worst. Never again! I believe in population all right, but I can't have a waitress with a baby, even if she never get the country settled. What in the world did you have a baby for, a smart girl like you?"

"I can leave her with friends," said Helmi, eagerly. She was going panicky. "Was there no work anywhere for her?"

"Still, I have three sons, young men; it would not be nice to have a young girl who has a baby— you know what boys are like—inclined to tease."

"I like boys, good enough," said Helmi, eagerly. "Try me—I am a smart worker. I have to get work, my money is nearly gone, and I must pay for my baby's care, my friends are not rich people."

"I would not suppose they were," said the lady, with emphasis. "I suppose they are—Finnish people like yourself—simply working people."

"No, ma'am," said Helmi. "It is a Canadian family who have been very good to me."

"Indeed," said Mrs. Swallowell, "how good of them! I hope you are very grateful."

"I am," said Helmi. "I want to pay. Will you take me?"

"I will think about it. I do not like to decide in a hurry. My husband is everything to me. I plan everything so carefully. People tell me I am foolish, but it's my nature. Give me your phone number. You haven't a phone? Oh, dear, how awkward! No, see, you could phone me—No. 8333—that is easy to remember but I cannot just say when I will be in. Every day there is something. Really, I grow busier all the time, it seems, and one cannot refuse invitations when one accepts them. Friday evening at dinner time—we dine at seven—I think I have no dinner engagement."

Sadly disappointed, Helmi turned away. How could she wait until Friday—she must have work. It was now near twelve—surely someone would take her? She looked back and searched the faces of the women. Miss Ritchie nodded to her encouragingly.

"I'll phone about for you when I can," she said; "there is a rush on this morning."

Just at that moment the door opened and a dainty little lady entered. She came to the desk quickly, with this step, like a mechanical toy. "Oh, Miss Ritchie, I am in such trouble," she began; "Mary has left me. She quarrelled with Robin, and wanted him to apologize. It is pretty hard for a big boy of seven to apologize, now, isn't it? He simply wouldn't. He had thrown a tomato at her—it was very naughty of him, of course—just a boyish prank—and she took it so seriously. Have you someone?"

Miss Ritchie called Helmi over. "Here's the very girl for you, Mrs. Brand," she said; "she has a baby of her own, and she'll be good to the twins, I know."

"Oh, I couldn't take a girl with a

Helmi stared at her haughtily. "It is not your business," she said. "I can have a baby if I want it without asking you."

"You bet you can, and welcome. Well, who else have you, Miss Ritchie?"

"The fourth woman who spoke to Helmi asked her—many questions about her past. 'Where is your husband?' she asked. Helmi replied that she did not know."

"Are you sure you are married?" Helmi produced the certificate.

"Do you ever think he may have deserted you?" the woman asked searchingly.

Helmi hesitated, and as the woman plied her questions she could only think of the brace and bit Jack used to bore holes in the boards. Helmi knew she had no right to question her, but she answered as bravely as she could, all the time praying, "Make her take me, God; Make her!"

"Well, my dear, I wouldn't be too sure. Men are fickle, I know. My first husband left me."

"My man is a good one," said Helmi, firmly.

"Any family?"

"One little girl, one month old."

"Well, of course, that would be the difficulty."

"I can leave her with friends," said Helmi, eagerly. She was going panicky. "Was there no work anywhere for her?"

"Still, I have three sons, young men; it would not be nice to have a young girl who has a baby— you know what boys are like—inclined to tease."

"I like boys, good enough," said Helmi, eagerly. "Try me—I am a smart worker. I have to get work, my money is nearly gone, and I must pay for my baby's care, my friends are not rich people."

"I would not suppose they were," said the lady, with emphasis. "I suppose they are—Finnish people like yourself—simply working people."

"No, ma'am," said Helmi. "It is a Canadian family who have been very good to me."

"Indeed," said Mrs. Swallowell, "how good of them! I hope you are very grateful."

You haven't a phone? Oh, dear, how awkward! No, see, you could phone me—No. 8333—that is easy to remember but I cannot just say when I will be in. Every day there is something. Really, I grow busier all the time, it seems, and one cannot refuse invitations when one accepts them. Friday evening at dinner time—we dine at seven—I think I have no dinner engagement."

Sadly disappointed, Helmi turned away. How could she wait until Friday—she must have work. It was now near twelve—surely someone would take her? She looked back and searched the faces of the women. Miss Ritchie nodded to her encouragingly.

"I'll phone about for you when I can," she said; "there is a rush on this morning."

Just at that moment the door opened and a dainty little lady entered. She came to the desk quickly, with this step, like a mechanical toy. "Oh, Miss Ritchie, I am in such trouble," she began; "Mary has left me. She quarrelled with Robin, and wanted him to apologize. It is pretty hard for a big boy of seven to apologize, now, isn't it? He simply wouldn't. He had thrown a tomato at her—it was very naughty of him, of course—just a boyish prank—and she took it so seriously. Have you someone?"

Miss Ritchie called Helmi over. "Here's the very girl for you, Mrs. Brand," she said; "she has a baby of her own, and she'll be good to the twins, I know."

"Oh, I couldn't take a girl with a baby—it would be—," she hesitated.

"I can work by the day and leave the baby with friends," said Helmi. She was pale and tired now, and looked too ill to be an attractive venture for anyone looking for help.

"I am strong," said Helmi; "my baby is young, so I am pale yet. Try me—for a day even."

"Well, I must ask my husband—I always consult him of course"—(Mr. Brand would have been interested in this) "and I will let Miss Ritchie know. That will be the best. I couldn't very well let you bring the baby, and it's at night I need you, most."

Helmi turned to Miss Ritchie. "I must go now," she said; "a little girl minds the baby—home from school, she stayed for me."

Miss Ritchie nodded. "Better luck next time," she said; "I shall keep you in mind."

In the afternoon Helmi came back. Mrs. Corbett was not going out, so she kept the baby. But no one wanted Helmi—she was a foreigner, and had a baby.

Kind-hearted Miss Ritchie was distressed, and stared up in anger when one woman said to Helmi: "You should have thought of this about this time last year."

"Having a baby is not a crime. Mrs. Coatsworth, the poor girl is honest and willing to work. She'd give service for every dollar. I'll go bail, she isn't asking charity, or even sympathy."

All afternoon Helmi waited, while well-dressed women came and went. The seekers of employment sat together, and were easily distinguishable from the others. Their manner was humble and beseeching. The war with all its dislocations had thrown many women out of employment, and on the faces of many, gaunt fear was plainly written. This was particularly true of those who were the most refined and cultured.

Fragments of conversation fell around Helmi as she sat among the seekers.

Two women in seal coats were discussing the situation.

Low Summer Fares

Round Trip Summer Excursion Fares Go Into Effect May 15th

Summer days are bargain days on the Canadian National Railways. Commencing May 15, round trip summer excursion fares go into effect. These fares feature a reduction of from 20 to 25 per cent as compared with the regular rates as well as allowing the traveller a longer period before the date of expiration, the low fares remaining in effect until September 30.

The new rates are applicable from Pacific and prairie province points on the Canadian National Railways to all points in the east and also from prairie province points to the Pacific Coast. On the eastern route the option of making part of the trip by boat across the Great Lakes is permitted, and the same privilege is extended to those desirous of making the boat trip between Vancouver and Prince Rupert.

Given Leave To Appear

Four organizations have been given permission to appear before the committee investigating immigration. The Anglican Synod, which recently expressed criticism of the department, the Canadian Legion (Alberta branch), the Welcome League and the Salvation Army were all given leave to appear.

NEW GUIDE FOR AVIATORS

Roof Signs Would Aid Fliers To Identify Towns

The patriotic citizen of today is called upon to give a roof to his country. Roofs are to be the aerial guideposts for fliers, with signs identifying each community, pointing the direction to the nearest airport and telling the distance to it.

The family of a generation hence which goes out in its aerial flavor for a Sunday afternoon ride will be able to see beneath it the name of each town in large letters, and to learn at a glance where to land if the carburetor gets to balking or the gasoline runs out.

The aviation division of the department of commerce has initiated the plan of guiding aviators by roof signs, and it has been taken up vigorously. Particularly are such signs valuable to airmen, it is pointed out, on roofs of buildings in smaller towns and communities which have no landmarks which are easily distinguishable from the air.

Oil companies have been among the first to accede to the suggestion, and many of them are putting town names on the tops of their gasoline and oil tanks in each community. The American Legion has announced that 10,000 of its posts will undertake the marking of their communities for guidance of fliers.

Office building shops and tanks are suitable for the signs; the aviation division says, but depots and warehouses near railroads are particularly good because railway lines are frequently followed by fliers.

Simple block letters in chrome yellow on a dull black background, are the pilot says, and the letters should be at least six feet high. Arrows should point the direction of the nearest landing field and the mileage to it should be given.

An Oil For All Men.—The sailor, the soldier, the fisherman, the lumberman, the out-door laborer and all who are exposed to injury and the elements will find in Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil a true and faithful friend. To ease pain, relieve colds, dress wounds, subdue lumbago and overcome rheumatism, it is excellent. It is a household necessity, a place in all home medicines and be amongst those taken on a journey.

Position Is Reversed

U.S. Will Never Be Able To Pay Debt To Britain.

Nearly as many men of the British empire passed over the Mennan road to the Ypres salient not only never to return but ever to lie there without a grave, unlabelled, unconfined and unknown as the United States lost by death in the world war. And we of all the universe, have reason to stand with gratitude before that gate of honor to those who perished behind it. But for their endurance and that of their comrades, living and dead, it would not be a memorial of their sacrifice, but a monument to their death, a gate opening to the sea and our own coasts. And yet we continue to speak of their debt to us—their debt, who have put us and all the world in eternal debt to them.—New York Times.

Oil Refinery For Moose Jaw

With the purchase of the flax mill situated west of the Government elevator at Moose Jaw, by the Price Oil Development and Refining Company, this city will shortly have a plant in operation for the purpose of refining crude oils. According to Mr. Price, the president, it is intended to establish a chain of plants across Canada, locating one in each province. It is understood that operations will begin about May 15th.

Big Business In Farm Implements

More business is being done in farm implement trade in Western Canada this spring than at any time in the past fifteen years. One striking feature is that the majority of these purchases are for cash, and another is the amount of dairy machinery which is being purchased by farmers.

Sheep Raising In Kenora District

The question of sheep raising in the Kenora district is receiving serious consideration by members of the Kenora United Farmers' Club, and the secretary is securing all data possible with a view to interesting farmers in the industry, to which the district is suitably adapted.

Centennial Celebration

Henri Dunant, Founder Of Red Cross, Winner Of Nobel Peace Prize

Born Geneva, May 8, 1828. Died Paris, October 31, 1910.

French-Swiss business man and philanthropist. Author of several books.

Casually travelling through Northern Italy in 1859, Dunant came upon the ghastly plain of Solferino where, on June 24th, 300,000 men had been engaged in a battle which had lasted fifteen hours.

Shocked into action at the sight of 40,000 dead, wounded and dying soldiers, Dunant undertook to establish a volunteer ambulance and nursing service, recruited from the nearby town of Castiglione. With these workers, he obtained official permission to tend the wounded and dying on the field of battle, going out personally with wine, food, cigarettes, tobacco, for which he paid out of his own purse. So indefatigably did he work that, in gratitude, the invalids named him "The Good Samaritan of Castiglione."

The vision of the suffering witnessed at Solferino never left him. For three years he travelled about Europe, preaching, lecturing, writing, advocating the need of speedy reorganization of military and medical nursing service. Finally, in 1862, his little book "Un Souvenir de Solferino" appeared and started a shock wave into the immediate need for change.

The Committee of Public Safety consequently, under the presidency and chairmanship of Gustave Moynier and General Dufour, became so interested that it succeeded in calling together an International Conference in 1864. As a result of these efforts still another conference was called in 1864, when 16 nations sent delegates. The meeting ended when 12 out of the 16 national representatives signed the first Treaty of Geneva, and Red Cross was established for the first time in international law. Today 59 nations subscribe to this Treaty, which grew out of the ideas of Henri Dunant.

Dunant lived a long and useful life, devoting a large fortune to the furtherance of his benevolent and philanthropic work.

A Real Asthma Relief. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has never been advertised by extravagant statements. Its claims are conservative indeed, when judged by the benefits which it produces. Expect real relief and permanent benefits when you buy this remedy and you will not have cause for disappointment. It gives permanent relief in many cases where other so called remedies have utterly failed.

Operate Canning Stations

Seven canning stations will be operated in Saskatchewan this year by the Saskatchewan Egg and Poultry Pool, which opened its first egg pool of the season recently. The canning stations are at Regina, Moose Jaw, Saskatoon, North Battleford, Yorkton, Melton and Assiniboia. This pool will probably remain open for six or seven weeks.

When the popularity of the radio began to be manifest, many persons expressed the opinion that all musical instruments would in time become obsolete, especially the piano. But the recent statement of a New York piano company that all existing records in the piano business had been broken by the sale of $108,000 worth of pianos in one day proves the contrary. The same prediction was made when the player-piano and the phonograph made their debut, but this extraordinary one-day sale of pianos indicates otherwise.

Cute in a Baby—Awful at Three—and it's Dangerous

by Ruth Brittain

Much of the nervousness in older children can be traced to the over-stimulation during infancy, caused by regarding baby as a sort of animated toy for the amusement of parents, relatives and friends. Baby may be played with, but not more than a quarter of an hour to an hour daily. Beyond that, being handled, tickled, caused to laugh or even scream, will sometimes result in vomiting, and invariably causes irritability, crying or sleeplessness.

Pretentious crying and sleeplessness from this cause can easily be avoided by treating baby with more consideration, but when you just can't see what is making baby restless or upset, better give him a few drops of pure, harmless Castoria. It's amazing to see how quickly it calms baby's nerves and soothes him to sleep; yet it contains no drugs or opiates. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper. Leading physicians prescribe it for colic, cholera, diarrhoea, constipation, gas on stomach and bowels, feverishness, loss of sleep and all other "upsets" of babyhood. Over 25 million bottles used a year shows its overwhelming popularity.

With each bottle of Castoria, you get a book on Motherhood, worth its weight in gold. Look for "Cast

Here and There

Quebec When the 1928 shipping season opened here April 22, the Canadian Pacific St. Lawrence fleet supplied fifty per cent. of the steamers that docked with S.S. Montclair, Montreal and Melita. The three ships carried in round figures 2300 immigrants aboard mostly of British stock and destined to farms in the West.

International Advertising Convention and Exposition to be held at Detroit, July 8-12, is already attracting wide notice and will contain under one roof everything relating to organized advertising in every phase. Advertising men from overseas will attend and bookings are being made on Canadian Pacific liners from Great Britain and Europe well ahead of time in view of the large demand for travel that will arise.

Sixty-five miles of salmon fishing in the Coos Bay River, New Brunswick, were enjoyed recently by five anglers from Chicago and the U. S. Middle West and by a party of New York newspapermen, including W. McEwen, internationally known New York Herald-Tribune sports writer. Both parties were staying for about a fortnight in the care of Harry Allen, well known New Brunswick guide. They traveled Canadian Pacific to their fishing destination.
